MESSAGE FROM THE BOARD

During the past month the Finance Committee, Maintenance Committee, Roxie Holliday our General Manager, Avalon Management, and the Board of Directors worked on the annual budget.

They reviewed each line item to establish an assessment that will cover our costs and properly fund our reserve account. As a result, the assessment will increase $24.00, which is $335.00 annually. Our big increases are in labor due to the minimum wage increases that took place January 2016 and will increase again in January of 2017. That is only an increase of 7.7 % over a two-year period, as we did not increase the Assessment in 2016.

Our reserve account is healthier than it has been in several years, and we have made some major repairs during the past two years as we continue to upgrade the campus facilities.

Applications for the SCCA Board of Directors are available in the SCCA office. The deadline for submission is November 28, 2016 at 4:00 PM. There are three two-year terms to fill at the Annual Meeting and Board of Directors Election on February 16, 2017.

SCCA plantscaping plans continue to be implemented

One of SCCA's dedicated employees has really truly outdone himself, let alone anybody who ever has been here on the SCCA campus.

Mike Klavon is truly a master green thumb. Our now beautiful landscape is looking lusher and more perfected every day. Mike has put his blood, sweat and tears into making the grounds look so amazing and just so fantastic. Be sure to thank him for such a superb job if you see SCCA's most talented green thumb hard at work when you visit the association.

I truly believe there is not enough thanks we could give to Mike. If you have yet to see the newly, still blossoming landscaping taking place, come on down to take a look. You will not be disappointed.

SCCA employees Mike Klavon and Gustavo Urbie are hard at work to make the grounds truly spectacular.

A dear friend is always a dear friend indeed

When I first started here at Sun City Civic Association I was blessed to have the opportunity to meet a divine soul, Ms. Helen Merritt, who at the time I had no idea I would grow to love so dearly. I am now honored to call her one of my best friends.

Helen was one of the first residents of Sun City who I met here in the front office. Helen came in to turn in her club packets after going over the required material and sharing a few laughs with her, she informed me that I was doing a terrific job and told me something I will always keep with me in my heart "I would keep you".

As time went by, Helen would stop by to see me and always have a reason in her eyes to see me… And of course little did she know it was a heart-tugging reason in my eyes as well.

We shared many stories little and big. Helen had a way of touching my heart with not only her kind words that were more sincere then anyone I have met in my lifetime but her genuine smile that she half showed me when we first met… I saw it shining through in the days ahead that I cherish with all of my heart and will never ever forget a single moment I shared with this amazing woman, who is now, was always, and shall remain forever an angel in my eyes.

Every chance I got to see my lovely new friend she never failed to remind me in these exact words "I'd still keep you"…. In time, I looked forward to hearing her tell me this. Because every time she said it and even as I type this now it touches my heart…

Helen eventually became one of my social activities committee members along with Florence (another angel I was blessed with and equally important to me that I dearly love with all my heart) these two became the best of friends as well. I was fortunate enough to watch the friendship they shared blossom and enjoyed endless laughs with these amazing woman all the time. We planned, commenced, experienced, learned, failed and succeeded at lots of things during our moments together. Helen adored me and I hope with all my heart that she truly knows how much I deeply adored her as well. I know she confided in me and I too confided in her, She always kept my hopes up and reminded me how great I was and how I made a difference to many. With the always "I'll still keep you" (with a wink) at the end of days we spent together.

She was a hard worker this angel of mine. She was a loving and caring soul who saw through eyes like mine; ones who do not see anything but good and a heart that believes that good would always conquer the bad.

An innocent soul who just needed to dance with my soul to not feel scared and alone. And wow what a song we danced to my Dear Helen…I promised Helen a dance with my husband at the next big event (she had a small crush on him hahaha)…I will keep that promise to you my sweet best friend. I will dance with him in honor of you to one of your favorite songs. Oh and I will keep an eye on my husband, too, honey, 'cause, as you also loved to tell me and your friends, my husband was a "real looker," so I better keep my eye on him!!! I will miss you Ms. Helen Merritt more than I can even express in words.

I am more than proud to call you my Best Friend Ma'am and I will forever hold you in my heart. And I only ask one thing: please know that you meant the world to me and I THANK YOU so much for letting my heart feel such a wonderful joy every moment I shared with you. And after the hurt stops, don't forget to stop by and share a dance or two with my soul every once in a while!

To My Best Friend Helen Merritt, I miss you so much, but I know you are happy where you are!! Hugs and Kisses. "I'll Always Keep You Honey."

I love you.

Your Friend,
Julia Johnson

FROM OUR OFFICE TO YOU

Beware of mail theft

Hello everyone, I cannot believe it has been another two months. This year is flying by.

There have been numerous calls made to the office from very concerned tenants/homeowners regarding mail theft. Please be aware of what is going on around your home and if you suspect any type of illegal activity/mail theft, please report it immediately to the United States Post Master @ 951-301-3657. I want to thank the ones who have called to help others be aware of what is going on.

Happy Holidays!

Karen Bailey

New Year brings changes

With the New Year just around the corner, we are hard at work making adjustments to the upcoming club packets. There will be many new and improved changes taking place. The requirements will be altered to accommodate each individual clubs specific needs. We are reviewing this past year's involvement here on the SCCA's campus facilities use of all clubs. To ensure operations run smoothly for clubs as well as for all SCCA staff involved, I will assess the appropriate availability, of the days, times, and locations requested. Communication seems to be a big lack of practice these past few months. We are dedicated individuals who only wish to better communicate so we can give the best service to you the residents. After all, I am here for you.

Please be sure to give enough advance notice for any event requests, event request changes, cancellations, set-up changes, or any requests for approval. By completing all necessary forms.

Any questions or concerns regarding any confusion about the necessary requirements. We will be making these changes in hopes to develop conformity that reflects organization for the New Year in the assessment of the previous club packet issued for 2016.

Club packet availability will be announced and should be available by the beginning of December. I look forward to working with all of you, and want to thank you for a great year this 2016.

Hello SCCA Residents!

The holidays are around the corner, it is getting cooler, and we finally got some rain.

The topic of this article is in regards to a "Permitted Health Care Resident" or "Caregiver".

As you all know, one person residing in the home must be 55 years old or older and the other tenant(s), cohabitant(s), or significant other, may be 45 years or older in order to be classified as a "Qualified Permanent Resident".

The Caregiver, which can be someone hired from an agency, someone certified through IHSS, or even a family member, but must be 18 years old or older. A Caregiver is considered hired help, so they do not have the same rights and/or privileges as a Qualified Resident.

When a Caregiver is needed to reside in a home, the Resident whom they will be residing with must make sure that they, the Caregiver, are also registered with the SCCA. There are forms in the office that must be filled out by the Resident and by the doctor of the Resident needing the Caregiver.

As per Civil Code 51.11(a)(7) the definition of a Caregiver is as follows; "a person hired to provide live-in, long-term, or terminal health care to a Qualifying Resident, or a family member of the Qualifying Resident providing that care. The care provided by a Permitted Health Care Resident must be substantial in nature and must provide either assistance with necessary daily activities or medical treatment, or both".

Although the state, neither city nor the association require that the Caregiver be certified, I believe that it would be a good thing to at least make sure that your Caregiver knows how to cook, clean, and dispense medicine correctly.

Please be cautious when hiring a Caregiver. Most if not all Caregivers from agencies and/or IHSS have had training and background checks. If you are going to allow a family member to be a Caregiver, make sure they can tend to your needs and provide the help you require from them. Be aware when hiring someone off the street, they may seem nice at first, but things can turn. I have heard stories of seniors being robbed of their personal affects, money and medication. There have also been incidences where the Caregiver has taken over the home and the senior is too afraid to speak up to anyone, due to physical and/or verbal abuse from the Caregiver.

Starting January 2, 2017, all Caregivers and your doctor need to complete new "Permitted Health Care Resident" forms, unless already completed within the last 6 months. Please come into the office for new forms or visit the SCCA web site, suncitycivic.com, under forms. Please make sure, if you have a Caregiver, that they and your doctor complete the forms by February 28. 2017. If new forms are not completed by the due date, the Violation process may be started and fines can/may be assessed to your property.

There are many resources/help available for senior citizens in the SCCA, such as, the Inland Caregiver Resource Center (800-675-6694), Riverside County Office on Aging (800-510-2020), IHSS or In Home Support Services (888-960-4477), are just to name a few. If you have access to a computer, you may also try https://www.caregiver.org/hiring-home-help for a guide on hiring a Caregiver. If you have any questions or concerns about Caregivers, please, Do not hesitate to call me, as I have phone numbers to many resources available.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS!

Thank You.

Happy Holidays from Sun City Players Club

Players Club gives a warm welcome to Sun City residents and encourages all to join the players club. We are ready and anxious to perform our spring plays next year.

Furthermore we look forward to seeing you at our monthly meetings. Meetings are held on the 2nd Monday of every month, (excluding the month of December) at 3:00pm.

The Players Club is entertaining, delightful yet expressive and impressive. The Players perform plays twice a year for everyone's enjoyment.

We here at players club would like to apologize for the cancellation of the plays we had worked hard to bring you for the month of November. We encountered some unfortunate illnesses among some of the Players Club Members. Luckily, we were able to perform at the SCCA Ways and Means Discovery day on October 8th, 2016 in Webb Hall. We would like to thank everyone who attended.

Players Club is made up of many "Roles" to fill. Not all "Roles" require members to take the stage or memorize lines. Countless "Roles" are equally important and fun. To name a few, sound equipment, make-up, ushers, computers, etc… Please come down once a month on our scheduled meeting day and time to see what the Players Club is all about…!

Contact Clara Combs at (951) 679-1569 or Donna Olgeir at (951)679-1514.

P.S. We also do short skits at our meeting's to bring some fun. The skits are read like an improvisation.

Thank You
The Players Club

PET CORNER

How this year has raced by! It's time to start thinking about the holidays and I'm just not ready for it yet!

Again, I will remind all of us to watch our pets around decorations, Christmas tree, foods, candies, and gifts! These few things can cause major vet bills and no one wants those and especially now. Also, watch out for doors left open when guests are arriving and our pets decide to take themselves for a walk? One of the most alarming and stressful things that can happen is losing our pets!

This summer has really been hard on two of my dogs. Between scratching and biting at themselves constantly, Mandy is losing her hair and Bailey is constipated. Hopefully, all of this will clear up real soon for everyone's sake!

Do you have a problem with your dog becoming very aggressive when looking out a window because someone is walking by? It can also happen when our pets are in their fenced yards and see or hear a person walking by. Most of this frightening display is rooted in fear, overexcitement, stress, anxiety, or frustration. The technical term for this behavior is Barrier Reactivity. The gate, fence, door or window acts as a barrier separating the dog from the thing which they are reacting too. It can be a stranger, friend, another, dog, vehicle, and the list goes on.

If you are having these types of problems there are ways to try to prevent this from happening. You might move furniture away from window where they are watching from, or putting up visual barriers in the yard or covering up the view by closing the curtains. Try putting them in another room if they do this when people come to your door.

When dealing with Barrier Reactivity, always try to be patient and understanding while managing and training your dog to not fear what is out there. Maybe even try using a few snacks to distract them from the target that is causing this and as it disappears so do the snacks. Just always, try to keep yourself calm and your voice soft during these events.

HAPPY AND SAFE HOLIDAYS TO ALL OF US AND I WILL SEE YOU AGAIN IN 2017.

High Technology For Low Vision Patients Allows Many To Drive Again

Patient using prismatic low vision glasses for reading.

For many patients with macular degeneration and other vision-related conditions, the loss of central visual detail also signals the end to one of the last bastions of independence - driving. California Low Vision Optometrist Dr. Richard Shuldiner is using miniaturized telescopes which are mounted in glasses to help people who have lost vision from macular degeneration and other eye conditions.

"Some of my patients consider me the last chance for people who have vision loss" said Dr. Shuldiner, "most people don't know that there are low vision optometrists who have extensive experience in helping those with vision loss. We help people with macular degeneration, diabetic, retinopathy, RP and other eye diseases regain function and independence."

Imagine a pair of glasses that can improve your vision enough to change your life. Low Vision glasses may allow you to read, watch television, see sporting events, and even drive.

There are two types of macular degeneration: wet and dry There is no treatment for the dry form, which is caused by aging, sunlight, smoking, and genetics. The damage in the wet form is caused by blood vessels leaking fluid. Treatment is aimed at stopping the leak and preventing further leaks. The vision cannot be regained in either type. This is where low vision glasses can help.

While there is currently no cure, promising research is being done on many fronts. "My job is to figure out everything and anything possible to keep a person functioning" says Dr. Shuldiner. "Even if it's driving."

"The major benefit of bioptic telescope low vision glasses is magnifying road signs, traffic lights and other distance objects necessary for safe driving".

End of Daylight Saving Time means darker earlier

It's starting to get colder, which means Daylight Saving Time has ended and the clocks fell back an hour.

Every year DST starts on the 2nd Sunday in March, when the time "springs" forward an hour at 2 a.m. DST ends on first Sunday of November. Although it is often referred to as Daylight Savings Time, there is no "s" at the end of saving.

This year the clock fell back at 2 a.m. on Nov. 6, after which Sun City and the rest of the Pacific Time Zone returned to Pacific Standard Time, PST, after seven months of Pacific Daylight Time, or PDT. It has been almost a decade since the clocks turned back in October.

Daylight saving started in the United States in 1918 after "war time" was established as a way to conserve fuel. It has since been adjusted twice. The most recent change occurred in 2007 and extended the time change by a month after the Energy Policy Act of 2005 was passed, which amended the Uniform Time Act of 1966. Between 1987 and 2006, the length of daylight saving time was seven months.

The previous clock switch started on the first Sunday of April and last until the last Sunday of October. Daylight Saving Time now starts on the second Sunday of March.

Thunder Bay in Ontario was the first spot to use Daylight Saving Time. Germany was the first country to adopt the practice on April 30, 1916.

The practice annually sparks a debate over whether or not changing the clocks to conserve energy is antiquated. Citing a study out of Indiana, many have said it actually increases electricity bills due to the demand for air conditioning, which led to a 1% increase in overall electricity consumption after 2006 when the state adopted Daylight Saving Time.

However, many still say they like the extra sunlight at the end of the day.

Although 78 countries around the world observe DST, it is not in use in the industrialized nations of Russia, China, India and Japan. Many European nations observe DST.

Arizona and Hawaii do not observe DST

If you missed this past weekend's super moon, which was a full moon also known as the Hunter's Moon, do not worry, there are two more in store for 2016.

Moreover, the November lunar cycle will orbit closer to the Earth than it has in decades, making the moon look enormous and luminous hanging in the night sky.

The Hunter's Moon peaked on Sunday, a month after the Harvest Moon appeared in the afternoon sky with an orange, red hue.

November's super moon is referred to as the Beaver Moon. It was named during colony-era America as a reminder to set beaver traps for winter furs, according to the Farmer's Almanac. It has also been called the Frost Moon.

working on the CC&Rs. However, the deeper we get into them the greater the task becomes. Our current CC&R's are not up to date in many areas. The SCCA attorney has been consulted as there are many legal issues that will have to be addressed before a rough draft is presented to the membership at a Town Hall Meeting for input. The proposed changes, if any, to the CC&R's is a long process we will be working on well into 2017. Nothing will change in the CC&Rs until the membership votes for those changes. Unfortunately, there is a lot of misinformation going around the community. There is not a campaign to change the CC&R's. The Board is simply reviewing the CC&R's to determine if changes are necessary. There will be additional Town Hall Meetings held to allow membership to address any changes before they are presented for voting by the membership.

After December 1st any Activity Card without a photo of the holder will not be valid. If you do not have a photo on your Activity Card, go to the SCCA office to get it added. It only takes about five minutes to complete.

At the Regular Session Board meeting on 10/27/2016, the Board of Directors voted to take a serious look at the Lower Lawn Bowl Greens, examine and consider repurposing the green. At some point in the near future, the Board will ask for input from the membership to help make a decision as to what new amenity will be best for our community.

In October there were three events in Webb Hall that should have filled it to capacity. One was a dance with a live band for a five-dollar admission fee that attracted less than 65 people, many of which were not from our membership.

The City Mayoral Candidate forum had 30 or less people attend and most were not from our membership.

The City of Menifee Senior Advisory Committee attendance was about the same. This event had county and city government officials and vendors who offer services for seniors.

We had to cancel the Halloween event because we could not sell the minimum amount of tickets to hold it. It is disheartening to see the staff and our core of volunteers put in hours of planning and working on an event and then have to cancel. The next event in the planning stages is Christmas with the Core on December 17, 2016.

If we are not offering the right entertainment or providing adequate information on seminars, please notify us in the office. We are always seeking input from the membership as to what events you would like us to offer. We need some help here folks, so if you have any ideas on how to improve passing out information to the membership, please let us know. There are 4762 homes in the SCCA and roughly 8000 people here. Are we not reaching you? You may respond to Board1@suncitycivic.com or drop your suggestions off at the SCCA office.

A Hankering for Squirrel...A story from yesteryear

BY MERLE DERSCHEID
SCCA MEMBER

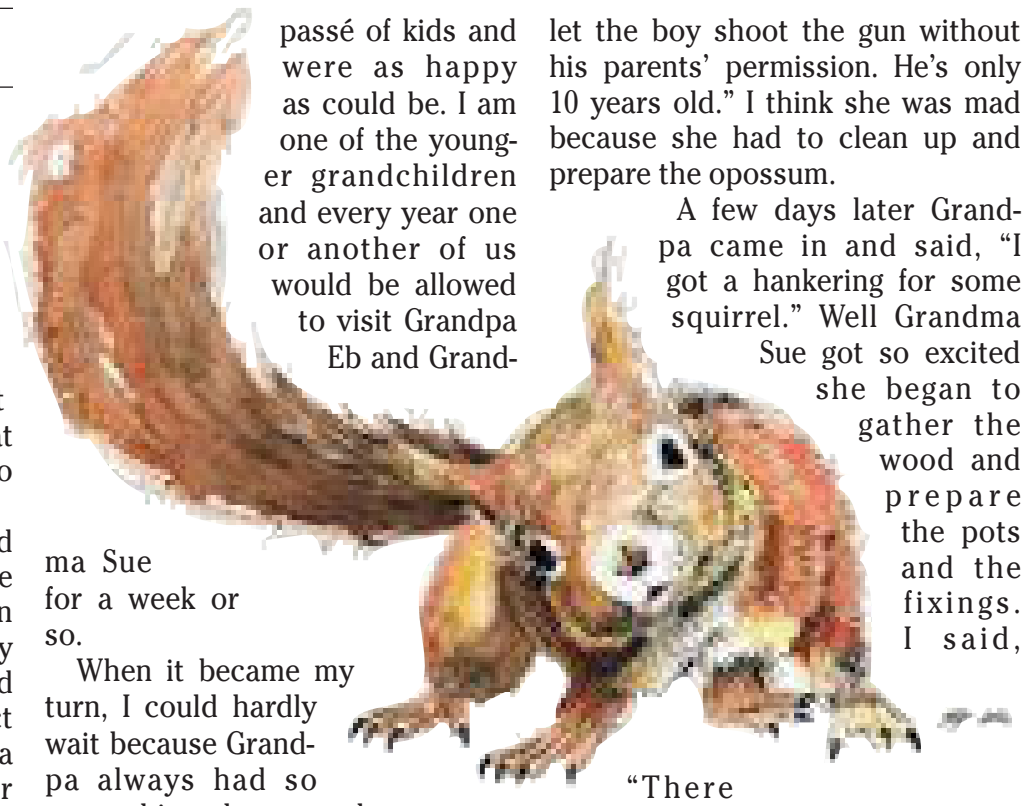
As a youngster, I grew up in the hills of Kentucky among my Aunts, Uncles, and Cousins and of course My Grandpa Eb and Grandma Sue Ann.

To start my story, Grandpa had been conscripted into the Confederate Army. He did not want to go because he did not want to shoot at people but that made no difference he had to go anyway.

As the Confederate Army moved north through Virginia they came upon one plantation that the union Army had destroyed. The Army killed and ate the livestock and took the mother and made her act as the nurse. All that was left was a teenage girl named Sue Ann and her Dad.

Grandpa was so angry with the Union army that from then on he shot every blue coat he saw. When the war was over, Grandpa Eb travelled back to the home to see if he could find Sue Ann. By asking around he found her and her father. He asked the father if he could marry Sue Ann and take her back to Kentucky with him. Her father could see no future for them in Virginia, so he allowed them to be married.

They were so much in love that in the next ten years they had a passé of kids and were as happy as could be. I am one of the younger grandchildren and every year one or another of us would be allowed to visit Grandpa Eb and Grandma Sue for a week or so.



When it became my turn, I could hardly wait because Grandpa always had so many things he wanted us to learn about the old days. One day he said, "Come with me boy I want you to do something". He grabbed his squirrel gun and we went into the woods.

He pointed to an opossum up in a tree, and said, "Hold this Gun". "Aim between the vee and the base at the opossum and pull the trigger." Well I did just that and the opossum dropped dead. I was so excited I yelled, "I hit him."

Grandma Sue was not so happy. She jawed Grandpa Eb something fierce. She said, "You should not let the boy shoot the gun without his parents' permission. He's only 10 years old." I think she was mad because she had to clean up and prepare the opossum.

A few days later Grandpa came in and said, "I got a hankering for some squirrel." Well Grandma Sue got so excited she began to gather the wood and prepare the pots and the fixings. I said, "There ain't any squirrel yet." Grandma said, "Don't you never mind child." When Grandpa says he got a hankerin for squirrel, there will be a squirrel.

Then Grandpa grabbed the squirrel gun and headed out the back door. Soon we heard a POP and then Grandma said, "There's one squirrel." I said, "How do you know that?" She said, "When you hear that pop, you know that's one squirrel cause Grandpa never misses."

Soon there was another Pop. Grandma said, "Soon he will be coming in with them dressed out." Sure enough, he did. She grabbed those squirrels and began to cut them up and sing, "Carry Back Old Virginia." Virginia was where she was born. She had them in the pot in no time.

Then she began to sing an old church song "Shall We Gather at the River." By this time, Grandpa had his knife and fork, and was seated at the table. About this time the squirrels were done and Grandma dished up a plate for Grandpa, one for me and one for herself. We sat down and began to enjoy her squirrel.

Neither one spoke. They just smiled at one another. I did not know what to do so I just smiled, too. He laid down his knife and fork and shoved his chair back from the table. Grandma was finished, too.

Grandpa got up and headed for the bathroom, but grandma beat him to it. That's how it was. I guess that's what happens when people get as old as grandpas and grandmas. They take a nap in the afternoon.

Anyway when my visit was over, I returned to my mom and dad and told them of the story about the squirrels. They just grinned at one another and my dad said, "I think I'm going to get me a squirrel gun," and mother said, "I think I will get Grandma's recipe for squirrel."
